

Das simple past verwendest du, um über Ereignisse oder Handlungen zu sprechen, die in der Vergangenheit stattgefunden haben und abgeschlossen sind.

Du musst bei der Bildung des simple past zwischen regelmäßigen Verben und unregelmäßigen Verben unterscheiden.

simple past der regelmäßigen Verben:

die Endung -ed an den Infinitiv (ohne to) anhängen:

z.B. help + ed → helped

Das simple past ist für alle Personen gleich.

häufig verwenden bei Zeitangaben wie:

last year, yesterday, last month, on my last birthday usw.

Das simple past von „to be“:

nur das Verb „be“ hat im simple past zwei Formen

I/He/She/It was. (Singular)

We/You/They were (Plural)

Die verneinten Formen lauten was't und weren't.

Beim Schreiben muss man auf folgende Besonderheiten achten:

das stumme -e am Ende fällt weg:

to phone phoned

to save saved

Nach kurzem, betontem Vokal wird ein einfacher Endkonsonant verdoppelt:

to stop stopped

Verben, die auf Konsonanten +y enden, erhalten die Endung -ied:

to try tried

to carry carried
