

Du verwendest das past progressive, um auszudrücken, was zu einem bestimmten Zeitpunkt in der Vergangenheit gerade geschah.

War das nicht schon beim present progressive so

Ja, aber beim present progressive tut jemand etwas jetzt gerade – beim past progressive tat er es damals gerade.

Im while-Satz past progressive

Im when-Satz simple past

Achtung: when = als

A) Complete the sentences / questions with the past progressive form of the verb.

- Mark and Linda _____ (sit) in a restaurant.
- Andy _____ (walk) home after school.
- What _____ (I/say)? I've forgotten already!
- Who _____ (she/wait) for? Has he got a boyfriend?
- Where _____ (you/stand)? I didn't see you!
- I _____ (do) my homework at 4 o'clock.
- Why _____ (they/sit) on the beach? It's so cold!

B) A week ago class 6a was very shocked because the following story happened.

- The pupils¹ in class 6a _____ (write) a short test in English when suddenly² Mister Miller _____ (jump) out of the window.
- While the pupil Thomas _____ (finish) the short test, Mister Miller _____ (go) home.
- The following day Mr Miller _____ (talk) to the pupils for one hour.
- The pupils were very nice and so they _____ (bring) him a present³.

¹ pupil = Schüler

² suddenly = plötzlich

³ present = Geschenk

Lösung

Englisch

Question tags (Bestätigungsfragen)

- Mark and Linda were sitting (sit) in a restaurant.
- Andy was walking (walk) home after school.
- What was I saying (I/say)? I've forgotten already!
- Who was she waiting (she/wait) for? Has he got a boyfriend?
- Where were you standing (you/stand)? I didn't see you!
- I was doing (do) my homework at 4 o'clock.
- Why were they sitting (they/sit) on the beach? It's so cold!

Simple Past or Past Progressive?

A week ago class 6a was very shocked because the following story happened.

- The pupils in class 6a were writing (write) a short test in English when suddenly Mister Miller jumped (jump) out of the window.
- While the pupil Thomas was finishing (finish) the short test, Mister Miller went (go) home.
- The following day Mr Miller was talking (talk) to the pupils for one hour.
- The pupils were very nice and so they brought (bring) him a present.

